Many Cultural activities are organised every year under Samwaad, these activities are managed by the students and are for the students. These activities help students to explore strengths and talents outside of academics, develop stronger time-management and organizational skills, and build confidence and self-esteem. In all they help students to build skills that are not necessarily taught in the classroom, but are still important for the future. Every year we get huge response from students for all these activities. This year the Cultural spectrum of activities were mainly divided into three categories
